Sand sculpture and music festival coming to TI this fall

Three of the finest beaches in Florida are in Treasure Island, home of the World's Largest Sandcastle in 1985 and proclaimed the Sand Sculpture Capital of Florida in 2001 by Gov. Jeb Bush.

On the beaches of Treasure Island this November 20-22, 2009 comes Sanding Ovations®, a three-day Masters Sand Sculpting Competition and Music Festival from the City of Treasure Island, the Treasure Island Chamber of Commerce and presented by Bud Light Lime and Land Shark lager.

World Champion Level sculptors will compete over a 3-day period. The sculptors are all master level World Champions from throughout the United States and Canada.

Three days of live local music, children's activities, food, beverage and crafts concessions make this an event that the whole family will enjoy.

Sanding Ovations® is also sponsored by generous contributions from the Bilmar Beach Resort, Sloppy Joe's Restaurant, Johnson Brothers and the Island Inn Resort.
